Solidità

Elegance and resilience, an harmony of Style

A dark and heavy base seems to support a monolithic marble block, interrupted by a thermally-treated eucalyptus insert that breaks the geometry and imparts lightness to the solid and compact composition.

The uniqueness of this kitchen lies in the stone material, which, with its texture, creates a play of depth and transparency, colors and shapes.

Completing the frame is a block of columns with an elegant brushed metal finish, featuring a protruding section that echoes the thermally-treated eucalyptus wood of the doors and the island's insert.

Precious finishes

The trinity of materials in this kitchen enhances its form and composition. From the preciousness and exclusivity of the stone to the warmth of the wood, and to the cleanliness and elegance of the lacquered brushed steel effect, the craftsmanship of this composition is highlighted.

Refined details

In this composition, the groove and the drawer handles have been minimized for the inner part of the kitchen to highlight the monolithic aspect of the countertop. Notably, the first row is flush with the countertop, accentuating its features, which are further highlighted by horizontal lines that define the drawers and blocks.

In the rear section, however, to emphasize both the finish and the structure of the columns, the lines transition from horizontal to vertical, creating a segmentation of the façade that defines its functions.
